It follows: I desire to state that in view of the statement of the attorney for Mr. Brennan, as to the attitude now in progress, I consider that it would be incompatible with my appreciation of my duties as a member of the Board of Commissioners that I should retire from my position as a member of that board in the effort to obtain all possible light on the

And I submit in doing so that I make no reflection upon Maj. Morrow. I think if this matter was presented to our courts across the street, and it appeared that there was hostility between the judge who was to try the case and the plaintiff or defendant, however justifiable that hostility or feeling of enmity might be, the judge would not sit in the trial of a case of that sort.

I believe when this matter is presented to Commissioner Morrow, without intending the slightest offence, he will see the propriety and the force and effect of the position we here take; and we are compelled to take it because of the discharge of the duty which is incumbent upon us here.

come out by reason of some of the questions which have been asked by myself and Capt. Markham. No Attempt to Conceal. And, concluding his remarks, which we:e listened to with the greatest attention by everybody in the crowded board room, he said various questions at laste.

But I can see no possible objection to my voluntarily retraining from taking part in the decision of the case, and I will so refrain.

At once Charles Douglas, counsel for the Brennan Company, rose, and, with task to perform, challenged the qualifications of the Engineer Commissioner to sit at the investigation. He made no reflections upon the in-tergrity of Commissioner Morrow. He wanted to point out that it was the Engineer Department of the District govrnment that was under investigation, to such an extent that it might be said to be "under fire."

He sald: think, in his mistaken zeal, the Engineer Commissioner has assumed, as we take it, the wrong road here. He has assumed to be the defender and champion of the department over which he presides—that is, in motive and in sentiment and in pride always to be commended and always commendable. But as we take it, Mr. Commissioners, the engineer department did not need, and should not have, at the hands of one of your board, while you are the at the hands of one of your board, while you are the latter of the election of Drs.
